Supreme Court Begin 1960 Session

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(UPI)—The Supreme Court reconvenes Monday after its holiday recess with decisions awaited in some 30 cases involving espionage, race conflict, citizenship and other issues.

Later in the week, the nine justices will hear arguments on the constitutionality of the 1957 Civil Rights Law, which permits the federal government to enforce Negro voting rights. Attorney General William P. Rogers will represent the government.

FEDERAL JUDGE T. Hoyt Davis of America, Ga., ruled last April that the statute was unconstitutional.

Among the more important cases up for decision is the dispute between the United States and five Gulf Coast States over ownership of the rich offshore oil lands. The government wants state ownership confined to a three-mile belt around the coastline. The states claim as far out to sea as three leagues or 10½ miles.

DECISIONS ARE due in race cases involving 1957 Tax Ordinances of Little Rock and North Little Rock, Ark., which require local NAACP groups to reveal their membership lists, and an attempt by Negroes to play on a Greensboro, N. C. golf course restricted to whites, and Ivanovich Abel, Soviet agent convicted of espionage in New York in 1957. Abel argued that the government violated the Constitution's guarantee against unreasonable searches and seizures.

A group of cases vitally important to the military services will determine whether the 480,000 dependents and other civilians living abroad with the armed forces are subject to trial by court-martial for non-capital offenses. The court previously has ruled that in cases involving the death penalty dependents must be given a civilian trial.

IN ANOTHER personal liberties case, the High Court has been asked to decide whether Congress can take away the citizenship of a native-born American if he goes abroad to escape military service.

Scientists Discuss Satellites, Rockets at Space Conference

NICE, France, Jan. 11.—(UPI)—More than 200 scientists from the United States, Russia and 16 other countries met here today to begin a week long conference intended to widen man's window into space.

THE FIRST INTERNATIONAL space congress expected to hear of the latest explorations of the universe by American and Russian rockets and satellites and to discuss further ventures toward the moon, the planets and eventually the stars.

Y Senate Committee To Ask for Support Of 'No Aid' Verdict

A resolution that the ASBYU Senate formally announce its support of the Board of Trustees' decision to reject federal aid for student loans will be presented at Monday's Senate meeting at 7:15 p.m. in 235 Eyring Science Center, according to Senator Doug Rhoton.

TO BE READ at the meeting by sophomore Senator Dave Ferrell, the resolution was drafted by Senator Rhoton, freshman class president, after research was done by the Senate's Greater Community Committee.

The resolution also includes the statement that "the ASBYU Senate especially regards both the loyalty oath clause and the concept of federal aid, with the inevitable federal control, as a double threat to the rights of the individual and to the public as a whole."

UNDER THE provisions of the National Defense Education act passed by Congress in the fall of 1958, college students would be able to borrow up to $1000 a year for college education costs. No interest would be charged on the loan until one year after graduation, and after one year a three per cent interest would be charged on the principal.

The act provided that the government would supply 90 per cent of the loan money and the participating university would supply the other 10 per cent.

BRIGHAM YOUNG University's president, Dr. Ernest L. Wilkinson, announced the Board of Trustees' decision not to accept the federal loan program last April 3.

In a studentbody assembly Pres. Wilkinson cited four reasons for the Board's rejection of the government plan. The four reasons are also included in the Senate resolution.

THE REASONS were (1) the United States does not own money; money comes from the taxpayers, (2) federal loan funds would probably be accompanied by federal control, and officers are so liberal that students might comic story of a love entanglement, which will open Wednesday night at 8:15 in the Smith Auditorium and will run through Saturday night.

Students may obtain free tickets for reserved seats by presenting their studentbody cards at the Smith Bldg. ticket office. One person may obtain two tickets with two activity cards.

PLAY-GOERS will be able to see "many scenes and a lot of scene changes," according to Dr. Preston R. Gledhill, director. He added that the changes will be "quick, and some will occur before the audience." Livered footmen will make the changes that the audience sees.

The stylized (not realistic) set pieces will be placed in front of a black cyclorama curtain, Dr. Gledhill said. Ornate pieces will be featured in the seven different settings.

"THE RIVALS" takes place in the city of Bath, a health resort in England.

Gratis Changes Of Registration Continue Today

Registration changes may be made Monday and Tuesday without payment of a fee, according to Dean Alms P. Burton.

THOSE WHO wish to make a change in classes may pick up a change-in-registration card at the Smith Ballroom in the Smith Bldg.

A late fee of $1 will be charged for each change-in-registration card processed after Tuesday. Students may pick up these cards in the registration division of the Admissions and Records office at 164 Mueser Bldg.

College Students Debate 'Loyalty Oath' Provision

Editor's note: The BYU Administrative Council and Board of Trustees recently rejected a federal program for aid in education, saying that it was the responsibility of the family and the church to provide funds for education, that government loaned money would not come from federal funds but from the taxpayer.

(ACP)—"To sign or not to sign" has replaced "to eat or not to eat" as the top topic in the collegiate press now that the cranberry crisis is more or less resolved.

Educators, individual students and student groups are taking a stand on an old and touchy subject—loyalty oaths. This time the debate is in connection with the loyalty oath provisions of the National Defense Education Act which makes it necessary for a student to sign a loyalty oath and affidavit in order to obtain a federal loan under the National Defense Student Loan Fund set up in 1958.

STAFF WRITER Barbara Froehlich, "The Ohio State Morning Lantern" reviews the situation: "Ohio state's reluctance to withdraw from the program because of the affidavit is understandable in the practical sense, since the National Defense Student Loan program is so heavily supported by the government ($250,000 a year). However, many educators have hopes that during the next session of Congress, the requirement will be revoked."

"With the possible increase in Federal aid, many educators fear that if the loyalty affidavit is kept, there will be an increase in stipulations in order to receive future benefits."

"TWO MAIN differing opinions have evolved concerning the issue. One viewpoint may be exemplified by former Senator John W. Bricker, a University Trustee, who feels that since the taxpayer's money is being used, the signing of the affidavit is the least a recipient of a student loan can do."

"Along this same line, many feel that the government has a right to be assured that beneficiaries of its loan program are loyal Americans."

STUDENT LIFE editors, Washington University, plead for repudiation: "WD should be the next university to repudiate the loyalty oath connected with student loans financed by the Federal Government. The fact that WU is a privately-endowed university makes the repudiation of the oath even more necessary. Because it is not tax-supported, the University has no governmental restrictions with regard to the character or beliefs of the students who may enroll."

"In effect, by restricting Federal loans to those who sign the oath, the University is excluding the pursuit of education by those students who are unable to finance their education except in this manner and who conscientiously must reject the oath."

"No funds are so important that an oath of loyalty is necessary."

Don't put it off until the last day!

Senior and graduate students who wait until the last day or two to call at the Photo Studio to have their placement pictures made, will probably find it impossible to receive more individual attention, according to studio personnel.

PLACEMENT pictures will be taken for the last time this year at the BYU Photo Studio, 276 Eyring Science Center, Wednesday and Thursday from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The cost will be $2 per student, with no appointment necessary. For this amount, 20 glossy application pictures are prepared for each student.

be encouraged to go into debt unnecessarily and (4) the Church's philosophy is that educational expenses should be paid by the students, assisted by their parents and the Church.

Mention of the loyalty oath clause, which requires a loan applicant to sign an affidavit certifying that he is a loyal American, was not made by Pres. Wilkinson at that assembly.

MEMBERS of the Greater Community Committee, which investigated the loan situation, are Senators Ferrel, Rhoton, Dwayne Larsen, Z. Reed Miller, Dale Dessel and Ralph Stewart. Senator Rhoton reported that the Senate would probably discuss also the Campus Chest resolution which was vetoed by student body president Rex Lee because the Boy Scouts were to be given nothing.

Local Authority La 'Swastika Smearin' Probable Youth Pr

PROVO, Utah, Jan. 10—(UPI)—Provo Evans labeled as a "probable" on a wave of anti-Semitic "Swastika" signs smeared in red paint on the downtown business district.

"I don't believe this is an expression of Semitism," the chief said. "Just the worst reckless persons out to have fun."

HE SAID TWO juveniles suspected of the incident will be questioned again Monday, but no charges have been filed against 17 and 15 years of age.

More than a dozen "Swastika" signs were daubed on the backs of stores, city lines bus and most of them were front windows along Provo's Center Street.

CHIEF EVANS said this was the incident of Swastika sign smearing in far as he remembered.

"People have been reading about the painting business in the papers, and it is on television and it gives some lot of ideas," the chief explained.

SOME of the signs combined the word Jew usually with an arrow pointing indiscriminately down the side. The signs were merely the Swastika emblem.

Only two of the stores involved in the smearing incident were owned by Jews.

THE SUSPECTED youths were taken today when police found their car with a description of one reported speeding and the sign smeared business district.

Officers found tops of two spray cans in the vehicle.

Chairman Tells Friday Deadline For Songfest

Friday at noon is the deadline for organizations to announce whether or not they will participate in Songfest, according to Joan Thomander, Songfest chairman.

Honorary, geographical, departmental, social and service units are all eligible to enter Songfest, which will be held April 1. Musical organizations are the only groups not eligible to enter the contest, according to Miss Thomander.

In order to form a policy for this year's Songfest, the Friday noon deadline has been set for notifying the Songfest committee whether or not a group will enter. All notices should be placed in the Songfest box in the Student Coordinator's office.

Songfest, sponsored by the Associated Women Students, is held annually at the beginning of spring quarter. An original song is written within a unit and sung by the members.

Trophies are awarded to first place men's and women's groups.
A trophy is also presented to the writer of the most original song.

The theme of last year's Songfest was "Trade Tunes" and Tala Sigma and O. S. Trovata social units took the top honors.

TOMMY'S WORLD IS ALL UPSIDE DOWN...

Or maybe it's just the world that looks that way...
the world that forgets that polo is still a terrifying cryper.

Tommy Daves was stricken with paralytic polio when he was 14 months old. That was over four years ago.
Arms, legs, chest muscles, all paralyzed.

His earliest memory is the iron lung and the world seen through a mirror.

What he sees is the white, hushed, institutional world of the hospital. But here he seems to be looking at you—at me—at all of us. He seems to be reminding us that polio is a costly cripple still.

Tommy is one of 50,000 polio patients receiving March of Dimes aid. Your help in the past literally kept him alive. Your help also enabled scientists to develop weapons against polio, like the Salk vaccine and advanced rehabilitation techniques.

Your contribution to the NEW March of Dimes in Tommy your help can make the world right side up again.

Cougars Hatch First Loop With Frosh Defeat Compton After Dropping Opener

by Ken Morrison Universe Sports Writer

Brigham Young University freshmen won consolation honors in the College of Southern Utah Invitational Basketball Tournament Saturday by defeating Compton, Calif., 70-64.

Glendale, Calif., downed the Kittens, 75-62 in the first round Friday night.

CSU grabbed the championship Saturday by beating Glendale, 63-52, after early disqualification of Compton, 96-53, in the first round.

Jim Kelson hit 20 points and Ron Steinkne added 14 to lead the Kittens scoring in a losing cause against Glendale. The frosh could not contain the hot Glendale club which shot 45 per cent from the field.

ON THE OTHER hand, the cool Kittens could find the range for only nine field goals in the second half.

Against Compton, Steinkne led all scorers with 25 points while Kelson tacked 18. A big factor in this game was that BYU hauled down 56 rebounds to Compton's 35.

Don't Need Bench...

Utah State 'Upsets' Redskins

UTAH STATE showed that it didn't need a bench and pulled the biggest "upset" of the week. A tough defense and good shooting led the Farmers past the sixth-ranked National Redskins, 73-61. The Ags had four men in double figures including Jerry Schofield with 21 and Hal Perry with 20.

However, one victory doesn't rule the Utes out of the title picture, since no team has ever gone undefeated in Skyline play.

ANOTHER MINOR surprise occurred Friday when CSU handed whipped Denver, 66-70 to establish its rights as a likely contender to the Ute crown. However, likewise this one defeat of the Hilltoppers doesn't mean that they can be overlooked when considering likely laurel winners in the Skyline set.

THE RAM-FARMER game must be marked as another must for both clubs in the yet young season.

BYU will also travel to Utah and exchange partners with CSU on alternate nights.

Utah and Montana take to the road to tangle with Denver and New Mexico in the Southwest. The Utes and Grizzlies will trade opponents on the trip.

Chances are that after the CSU squad's Western swing only one squad will remain unbeaten, the winner of the Ute-CSU fracas.

MISSOULA, Mont. — Coach Stan Watts had been looking for more scoring from his guard line and elusive junior guard Ron Abeggien obliged with 16 points Saturday, as BYU notched its first conference win, 63-58 over Montana State University.

The game was the first of the league season for the Cougars and left them 1-0 in the standings. The Grizzlies had lost an earlier decision to Utah and now stand 0-2 in Skyline action.

THE GRIZZLIES displayed a tough defense early in the game that had held the visiting Cats to 27 points in the first half. The Silverlites fell by as much as seven points in the first stanza and left the court with a slim 30-27 advantage.

But, Coach Watts' charges came back with vengeance after the intermission to meet the Grizzly challenge and eventually take the lead.

DRIVING layins by Abeggien, who began to riddle the Silverlites defense to take high point honors for the Cougars, brought the score to a 37-37 tie. The count was knotted again at 47-47, 48-48 and 50-50 before three successive hook shots by BYU center Dave Eastis put the Cats in front to stay.

The hustling Grizzlies got nearly 20 more shots at the buckets than the Provo quintet, shooting 25 of 75 for a 33 per cent field goal average, while the Cougars got 27 out of 57 from the floor for a 47 per cent.

MONTANA'S all-conference guard Dan Balko was high point man for the game with 16 followed by Abeggien with 16.

Mark Miller and Gary Earnest of BYU and Duane Rueggeger of MSU all had 13 and Eastis of BYU had 12.

BYU returns to the home hardwoods this weekend for a two-game stand against OSU on Friday and Wyoming on Saturday.

CSU won two games this past weekend and is presently atop the league standings.
